Nine girls and one boy comprise the "Top Ten" honor graduates at Salem Senior High School, according to the list announced today by Principal Beman Ludwig.

First place went to Karen Trombitas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Trombitas, 884 E. 6th St., who is co-editor of the Quaker yearbook.

Second place academically is Gail Gottschling, who was feature editor of the Quaker Annual and who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Gottschling of 580 N. Howard Ave.

Nancy Tarleton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Tarleton of 490 S. Madison Ave., is ranked third. She has been editor of the Quaker bi-weekly.

Normadene Pim, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Pim of 167 Fair Ave., is fourth and Linda Loop, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd C. Loop, 1544 E. Third St., is fifth. Normadene's activities have included student librarian and Miss Loop has been active on the Quaker staff, of which her mother is faculty adviser.

Others in "Top Ten" are: Sixth — Evelyn Hanna, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Hanna of RD 1, Salem.

Seventh — Paulette Severs, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Erickson of 1196 E. State St.

Eighth — Sydney Johnson,

Leetonia Board OKs List of 68 Seniors

LEETONIA — Sixty-eight seniors were accepted for graduation by the Board of Education at its meeting Wednesday night at Orchard Hill School.

Members approved the ungraded primary unit at the South Side School for the 1961-62 school term on an experimental basis. Individual testing of the students will be done during the summer by Daniel Friedberg, guidance counselor.

New teachers hired for the coming school term are Miss Esther Yoder, Mrs. Nellie Ebersole, David Pavlansky and Thomas Tatterson.

George Trombitas and Ronald Todd were hired to teach driver training during the summer, their salaries to be based on eight weeks extended service.

The board voted to pay $1,000

on the option on the Frank Stouffer property of 20 acres adjacent to Orchard Hill School.

The board voted to pay $1,000

on the option on the Frank Stouffer property of 20 acres adjacent to Orchard Hill School.

President Jack Ripley reported on the hearing at the State Fire Marshal's office in Columbus, concerning the Washingtonville Building.

The board was given 120 days to correct three major problems in the school, with an extension available if needed. The major repairs to the 49 year-old school are: Repair the furnace, replace the exterior doors where necessary and check the electrical wiring. Addition extensions may be granted to complete the repairs on the other findings of the fire marshal.

The board accepted a new student insurance plan, with premiums to cost $1.50, which is a reduced rate over this year, but provides better protection.

Superintendent Dr. W. W. Ge-hart outlined an extensive summer work schedule.

Commencement exercises are scheduled June 7 in the stadium, weather permitting.

Brazil Deals Blow to U.S.

Opposes Latin Bloc Against Castro

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP) — Brazilian President Janio Quadros has dealt a stinging blow to Washington's efforts to enlist Latin America against the Fidel Castro regime in Cuba—and at a time when the United States is gathering up a massive lump of aid money for Brazil.

In a diplomatic note Wednesday night defining his government's position toward Cuba and the hemisphere, Brazil's new neutralist-line president made clear he wants the United States to keep hands off Cuba.

He also made clear that he does not regard the Castro regime as a member of the Communist bloc as the United States does.

The question now is how many other South American nations will take Quadros' viewpoint. If many other key nations do, any U.S. effort for collective hemisphere action against Cuba seems doomed.

Brazil's position on Cuba, as explained by Foreign Minister Afonso Arinos, is to oppose any foreign intervention, direct or indirect, be it military, economic or ideological.

This could be applied to Red China or the Soviet Union. But the tone of the Brazilian note was clearly against any U.S. intervention.

Quadros took this stand despite growing pressure from the Roman Catholic Church, big segments in Congress, intellectuals and the press to put Brazil on record in opposition to what many

Contract Awarded for County Road Materials

LISBON — Ohio Tar and Asphalt Inc., Canton, was awarded a $130,132 contract Thursday by the Columbiana County commissioners for bituminous material for repairs and improvement of county and township roads. It was the only bid received by the deadline Thursday.

The contract price is $21,045 below the estimate of $151,177 made by county engineer Charles O. Snyder. Last year's cost was $161,731 for 174.5 miles of road. Scheduled to begin around June 1, weather permitting, the 116 projects include 146.71 miles of highway.

UNEMPLOYMENT HIGH

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Unemployment remains high in Summit County despite a drop of 1,600 in the number of jobless persons in March, the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation reports. The bureau said hiring in the construction industry was a prime factor in the decrease.

The bureau reported that since March 1960, manufacturing employment in the area has dropped 12.5 per cent for a net loss of 10,900 workers. Employees at tire and tube plants numbered 5,700 fewer last March than a year earlier.

GETS RESTRAINING ORDER

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Common Pleas Court here has temporarily restrained state officials from subpoenaing the head of Sharwell Tobacco Co. while the Columbus firm appeals an assessment of nearly $1 million in allegedly unpaid state cigarette taxes.

Sherman Sharwell asked for the injunction after he was subpoenaed to appear in the state tax commissioner's office Thursday. At the same time, Sharwell filed a $1 million damage suit against the commissioner, Stanley J. Powers.

Initial negotiations were to start today in an attempt to end a two-week-old strike at the Hydraulic Press Manufacturing Co.

Federal Mediator H. J. Montoney of Columbus said he planned to attend the session. Local 1319, International Association of Machinists, struck the company May 1. Some 450 workers are involved.

Inside Labor By Victor Riesel

That mighty missile, the Atlas which soon will heave a "Mercury" Astronaut into orbit, also is a killer which can carry a city-smashing H-bomb 9,000 miles to a pinpoint target. Such Atlases were scheduled to be nesting in 85-feet-deep underground silos in 11 air bases in the end of '62.

That defense deadline against you-know-who now will probably not be met. There have been too many time-eating, money-chewing strikes and wildcat walkouts, even on these projects created for the security of the United States.

Delays on the Atlas part of our defenses already have cost more than $5 million. This stall has prevented us from narrowing the military missile gap between us and the U.S.S.R. Strikes and delays at Canaveral and other such civilian sites have done more than hamper the man-in-space project and completion of our rocket defense screen.

It has been overlooked in most comment on the local unions feuding with contractors and the Air Force and with other unions, that Canaveral is largely a test base.

If not for test delays we might today have far more imaginative and startling space craft-military as well as civilian.

THE SPOKESMAN for a rocket firm put it this way to Sen. McClellan the other day:

"If you delay tests on a program down there (Cape Canaveral), said James D. Esary, Jr. of Boeing "you may be able to measure in days, weeks or months, how long the test program was delayed, but that is no measure of how much it was delayed back in the factory and in engineering because we didn't have the information. A month at Cape Canaveral might be many months in the end result of the program . . ."

The Atlas is produced by Convair at San Diego, while Boeing makes the Minuteman. But their experiences are grimly similar.

To understand this, it is vital to understand the "phasing" of a rocket base.

First, there is the excavation and lining of the silo, the creation of the physical underground operation centers, elevators, launching bases (pads), propellant loading systems and pipes to convey power, water, fuels, and other material to the rocket site.

This completes Phase No. 1, during which the construction firms use building and construction union workers exclusively. Now in comes the missile maker, the Convair or the Boeing people, for example. They have the rocket bomb and they come in with their own crew from, say, California, to install it and the controls.

More Are Called Than Chosen

This is Heartbreak Week for unsuccessful applicants to colleges and universities that have the privilege of close selection. Ivy League schools and their distaff counterparts along the Eastern Seaboard are sending letters of acceptance and rejection.

Despite untiring efforts to explode the myth that all colleges are overcrowded and admitting only a fraction of applicants, there still are more places in college classrooms than will be filled next fall. For every crowded college, dozens of colleges are continuing to look for applicants.

It is largely a matter of fame based on earned tradition. All the Ivy League schools — Brown, Columbia, Cornell, Dartmouth, Harvard, Princeton, University of Pennsylvania and Yale — are swamped with applicants, as are schools with reputations for scholastic excellence elsewhere, like Swarthmore, Amherst and Oberlin.

But hundreds of private schools are similarly equipped to give students education of the same excellence yet are operating at less than capacity because they lack the fame to attract applicants. And tax-supported universities in Ohio, Kansas, Montana and Wyoming still must accept all graduates of accredited high schools as a matter of law.

Elsewhere, tax-supported colleges and universities now make a practice of accepting only students who finished in the upper half of their high school classes.

There is no substance of truth in the belief that college applicants outnumber the places open for students. It is a matter of matching schools with students. It is as if all the delegates to a large convention were trying to eat in three restaurants, when 30 restaurants were open for business. Admittedly, there are differences in quality. But it isn't usually admitted that there also is a difference in students.

Heartbreak Week is made sadder than it needs to be by too many would-be students trying to get into too few schools.

AMA Proposes a Fee Scale

A unit system for regularizing physicians' fees is being distributed among members of the American Medical Association. The purpose, apparently, is to guide doctors in evaluation of their services.

This would be done by a graded scale of services, using a minimum service as the basic fee unit and setting fees for other services as multiples of the basic unit. This is a professional matter, but it is associated with a lively public interest in the cost of medical care and is certain to become involved in public discussion.

Most public discussion of this subject fails to define clearly what is being discussed. Almost invariably when the subject is the high cost of being seriously sick, it is treated as if the cost were the results of medical fees as much as the result of soaring hospital costs. This is not true.

Medical fees — charges paid to doctors — are not ordinarily the major item in the high cost of being seriously sick. Rather, it is the multiplication of the unit cost of hospital care over a prolonged period, plus special charges, that constitute the problem.

One week's residence in a hospital with a base rate of $30 a day comes to a minimum of $210, without addition of any of the special charges by which hospitals try to produce enough revenue to offset their soaring overhead. A prolonged stay in a hospital turns into what seems like an algebraic progression of expense. With special nursing care added, as it frequently must be in severe kinds of illness, costs outrun medical insurance coverage and savings.

When totals are forthcoming, the doctor's bill is not uncommonly the least worrisome of the items. Yet, because the high cost of being sick is associated with care by medical practitioners, doctors get an unwarranted share of the blame for a problem that, in fact, only doctors have made any progress in solving.

New York Removes All Doubts

Nothing is being heard currently about legalizing bingo in Ohio, nor is anything likely to be heard. New York State's experience with legalized bingo has removed all doubts about what is bound to happen when this tempting form of gambling is legalized. In 1954, pressure from minorities that wanted to play bingo caused both political parties to declare in favor of legalizing the game. Legislation to this effect was approved twice by the legislature and once by the voters. Bingo was legalized in 1958. The state is now holding its first investigation of the results.

No one questions that racketeers moved into make a killing. Witnesses are testifying uniformly to a state of corruption so widespread and advanced that the only question is whether the minorities that still want to play bingo, corruption notwithstanding, will have to let the politicians make changes in the law to cover up its basic defect.

The defect, no more obvious now than it was in 1957 when voters gave a green light to bingo, is a provision for licensing bingo games. This is an open invitation to persuade licensing authorities to close their entrench themselves as bingo operators, all in the sweet name of charity, and to crowd out their competitors by making sure they can't obtain licenses.

Bingo will be played in New York State regardless of the corruption. But henceforth no state ever will license bingo because things worked out so satisfactorily in New York. All it would take to grab a bingo proposal would be a reading of the testimony of the New York investigation, which is only the warmup for a more sweeping investigation later.

By H. I. Phillips

New York subway is using poster showing mother, child and handbag taking space for three, while elderly man says "Please," mother rises with a "Sorry" and man responds with "Thanks." It invites riders to write of their experiences with new courtesy appeal. Possible response:

Dear Poster Pasters: Well, I am a mother and I got into subway with baby, handbag, two loaves of pumpernickel bread and a six-can pack of beer. I could not even get one seat, let alone three but there is blow-by-blow account of what happened.

I stood in front of one gent and let my handbag swing back and forth across his puss but he synchronized his neck movements with the handbag.

Then I held the baby so it could smear him up with a wet lollipop. He was a veteran subway rider and did not mind it.

I said "Sorry" and added, "It ain't easy to hold a kid, a shopping bag, two loaves of pumpernickel and a carton of beer."

He said, "Lady, you ain't had the right subway training." I moved in front of another man, using the same routine but a new lollipop, and said, "Sorry," as the baby clapped him on the chin. He said, "Please" but he added "Get lost."

I switched to a third bum, letting my beer package swing so it would give him cauliflower ears but he already had cauliflower ears. He cut easy. When I had him bleeding from the nose and said, "Please," to him, he snapped, "How far you going?"

I said all the way to Coney Island. He just said "Thanks, but my hearing aid is out of order."

I tried to get out and rest on a subway bench but five big creeps shoved me back. They all said "Please, lady, out of my way!" Being a perfect lady who always cooperates with subway posters, win, lose or draw, I said "Thanks." Then I fell on my face grasping "Sorry." Courtesy is courtesy. Yours with fallen arches. A Mother.

P.S.: I finally got home with my kid and the pumpernickel. But I lost the beer.

EX-PRESIDENT TRUMAN says he is amazed to find high school kids know little about American history. They remember Gen. MacArthur but are vague about Harry.

Government says there are more women than men in 38 of 50 states. Yeah, but in all states, it's hard to tell 'em apart.

Washington has named a unit to observe, check and appraise crises. This calls for men with energy, endurance, top vision, vitality and speed of foot and mind. They will in fact need a two-platoon system, one platoon for the morning's deluge of crises and one for the afternoon series.

This should be the most overworked group in Washington, and it is possible a third platoon will be needed to separate big crises from smaller ones. (There is one big problem for the unit: Can it go month after month without sleeping?)

Gotham police commissioner announces campaign to arrest autoists who blow horns excessively. He can't win. Such a campaign would need the Army, Navy and Marines. The average autoist is an all-out, hell-or-highwater horn-tooter. He toots when he feels impatience coming on, toots when it seems closer and toots again to make sure he is right about the first two toots.

He no longer waits for a genuine reason for hornblowing and toots by impulse if the car ahead shows the slightest indication of not going through a red light, proceeding at high speed past "STOP" signs or giving school kids a break.

I can think of no squabble which strikes me as more out of place than the argument among American Jews over their right to react to Israel as individuals.

...And That's Our Multi-Stage Racket!

Frame For Censorship

By JAMES C. WARNER

If both President Kennedy and the nation's newspapers and radio stations want it, the framework for voluntary censorship of sensitive defense news already exists.

In fact, it has existed since the end of World War II, in a "shadow" organization prepared to go into action immediately in the event of war or a national emergency.

Just what would be accomplished by a voluntary press and radio domestic censorship as Mr. Kennedy suggested unless an arbitrary cable, radio and postal censorship is clamped on to prevent dispatch abroad of the very information kept from the American public? That is the essence of the problem which Mr. Kennedy's suggestion has posed.

Even if, by declaration of a national emergency, compulsory overseas cable and mail censorship is imposed, what of diplomatic pouches, sacred from such censorship?

There also is the matter of the travel in and out of the country of "diplomats," frequently out-and-about spies, as numerous arrests by the FBI and persona non grata evictions by the State Department have shown in recent cold war years.

There are some of the questions which the Kennedy administration — and Congress — must ponder if it is decided to ask the nation's editors to censor themselves, as they did admirably during World War II.

Patterned after the office of censorship which operated during World War II under Byron Price, former executive editor of the Associated Press and wartime director

Purely Personal

One of the most damaging misunderstandings in the country is old-age benefits, which people think of as insurance. The Wilmington (Pa.) Amish incident, in which a farmer's horses were seized in payment for OAB benefits he didn't want to pay for, turned on the point that this was a tax, not an insurance payment.

I never have heard a taxpayer yell for the privilege of handing more money to the government, though tax-spenders make it sound as if taxpayers were clamoring for this privilege.

Kennedy's Dilemma

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Religion Taught In Schools In Many States

President Kennedy has a real dilemma on his hands in connection with the bill that would provide federal aid to public schools.

If he means literally — as the administration's published statements have implied — that religion cannot be taught in schools supported with public funds without violating the Constitution, then logically Mr. Kennedy would have to withdraw altogether his support of the federal aid bill.

"Teaching of a common core of religious beliefs in the public schools is not a satisfactory solution.

"Teaching 'moral and spiritual values' cannot be regarded as an adequate substitute for an appropriate consideration of religion in the school program

"The public school should stimulate the young toward a vigorous, personal reaction to the challenge of religion."

It is interesting to note that both the National Council of Churches of the Protestant groups and the National Catholic Educational Association are separately engaged in continuing studies of what steps can be taken to give some form of religious education to public school children.

THESE ARE REGARDED generally as worthy activities but the real question is what can be done now that President Kennedy has contended that even to lend federal money to construct a Catholic school building is unconstitutional, as religion might be taught to today.

The report was based on a questionnaire sent to 1,233 educators all over the country — chief state school officers superintendents of schools, nearly all in cities of over 50,000 population presidents of state or municipal colleges or universities presidents of church-related or independent colleges or universities presidents of state teachers colleges and deans of schools of education or heads of departments of education in all types of higher educational institutions.

Whether the industry wants to ask for such formal, though voluntary censorship, as Mr. Kennedy suggested remains to be seen.

Reaction to the President's suggestion was somewhat mixed, although generally favorable.

No editor wants to print or air information dangerous to the national security; but in a period of uneasy peace it is difficult to determine just what news should be withheld.

And there is always the suspicion that the administration — WHETHER IT BE REPUBLICAN OR DEMOCRATIC — might use censorship to withhold information for political, rather than demonstrable security, reasons.

During World War II, and to a lesser extent during the Korean War, this was done by the nation's editors on a voluntary basis under the "code of wartime practices" for the nation's press and broadcasters. The code asked editors to withhold from publication news regarding ship and troop movements and various other topics unless released for publication by appropriate government authority.

The observance of certain religious holidays, such as Christmas, is characterized in nearly all schools by the use of religious subject matter, music, and religious ceremonies.

"Some schools, particularly those in communities which are nearly homogeneous from a religious standpoint, go much further than this in the encouragement of participation in religion by the pupils of the school.

A few schools are beginning to experiment with the factual study of religion in order that the pupils may understand its role in history and in the development of values and standards in our society.

"What to do about religion in the public schools is a persistent and vital problem. It will not be solved by drifting. We urge that this problem be studied carefully, with appropriate experimentation in different communities that are willing to undertake it. The solution will have far-reaching effects on the future unity and soundness of the states to handle exclusively.

Incidentally, the federal Constitution does not give the federal government any authority over education and it could be argued that, when all is said and done, education might better be left to the states to handle exclusively.

Thoughts

And the man Elkanah and all his house went up to offer to the Lord the yearly sacrifice, and to pay his vow.—I Samuel 1:21.

Let men laugh, if they will, when you sacrifice desire to duty. You have time and eternity to rejoice in.—Theodore Parker.

And he said to his disciples, Temptations to sin are sure to come; but woe to him by whom they come!—Luke 17:1.

No degree of temptation justifies any degree of sin.—Nathaniel Parker Willis.

Matter of Fact

The Eskimos settled their disputes with insults set to music. The two quarrelers held a singing contest. Each man tried to sing a song that insulted his rival. The winner was the man who got the biggest applause from the crowd. Settling fights this way wasn't always fair, but it was good entertainment for the Eskimos.

The "timid" rabbit puts up a good scrap when it has to. A mother with young is a courageous fighter. Mama bunny has been known to fight a dog if she thinks her babies are in danger. Her weapon: powerful hind legs, which can even kill a dog with a few sharp blows. That "rabbit punch" is no joke.

Barbs

We'd rather listen to the man who talks in his sleep than the man who sleeps in his talk.

Well, the income tax people have heard from you—we hope you don't hear from them!

THE REGULAR dinner meeting of the Salem Quota Club will be held Tuesday at 6 p.m. at the Smucker House.

The program will feature Walter Everett who will show slides of his recent trip around the world.

MRS. MARY FRY of Guilford Lake was hostess to the Ruraleys Club Wednesday evening.

Two tables of "500" were in play, with honors going to Mrs. Cecil Bennett and Mrs. Donald Dolphin. Mrs. Howard Gray and Mrs. Paul Flugan assisted the hostess.

Mrs. Wilbur Hendricks and daughter, Nancy, entertained with a vocal selection. Slides of the Holy Land were shown by Dave Williams.

Gifts were presented to Mrs. Melinda Schaefer, oldest mother; Carol Stone, youngest daughter; and to the youngest mother, Mrs. Robert Killy.

Mrs. Emmerson Calvin, Mrs. Metts, Mrs. Ada Wagner and Mrs. Jenny Hendricks also received gifts.

REPORTS ON the state Woman's Christian Temperance Union Workshop at Columbus and the county spring WCTU institute at Damascus, were given at a meeting of the Salem WCTU Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Edith L. Dean of E. 2nd St.

Miss Pearl Walker represented

Harold Harmon, program chairman, introduced Mrs. Michael Schuller, who told of the work of the local Phoebe Fraunces Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution.

Mrs. Schuller, an ex-regent of the chapter, said its purpose is to cherish, maintain and extend the institutions of American freedom to foster true patriotism and love of country, and to aid in securing for mankind all the blessings of liberty.

To accomplish this purpose, Mrs. Schuller explained, the chapter has active committees working on such projects as the American Indian, American Music, Americanism and DAR Manual for Citizenship, DAR approved Schools, Conservation and National Defense.

To be eligible for membership, a woman must be 18 years of age or older and a direct descendant of a man or woman who was active in achieving American independence. Likewise, Mrs. Schuller told the group, a chapter is named for one who was active in achieving American independence. The local chapter chose the name, Phoebe Fraunces, at the suggestion of its organizing regent, the late Mrs. John Archibald. Miss Fraunces, a maid-servant in the home of George Washington at the time of the Revolutionary War, was a heroine because she thwarted a plot to take the general's life.

Prior to the meeting, the 21 members and guests in attendance enjoyed a coverdish dinner. Mrs. James Campbell and Mrs. Bernice Burke headed the committee in charge.

the auto to jump a ditch and into a fence, hit a tree and come to a stop by hitting another fence.

The front end of the car was demolished, patrolmen said. Kridler was cited for failure to stop at a stop sign.

Harvey Williams, 43, of East Liverpool, is in fair condition today in East Liverpool City Hospital with a fractured collarbone and abrasions and contusions of the face received in a two-car mishap on Township Road 925, five miles north of East Liverpool, at 6:20 p.m.

Patrolmen said Williams lost control of his northbound car, causing the auto to slide sideways on the gravel road into the front of a southbound car being driven by Luther Jackson, 26, of Wellsville. Uninjured were seven passengers in the Williams' car and eight in the Jackson auto, the Patrol said.

Constance V. Smith, 31, of Alliance, was cited for failure to stop in an assured clear distance following a two-car mishap on Rt. 62, just east of the Alliance city limit, at 9 p.m.

Patrolmen said Elizabeth J. Smith, 38, also of Alliance, attempted to make a left hand turn with her eastbound car and the auto was struck in the rear by Constance Smith's car, causing minor damage to both vehicles.

Commissioners OK Livestock Claims

LISBON — Columbiana County commissioners Thursday approved the claims of two county residents for livestock being killed by stray dogs.

Mrs. Stella Lindesmith, Hanoverton RD 1, for 70 chickens for a total of $76.80.

Norman Stroup, Hanoverton RD 1, one ewe killed and 5 wounded for a total of $74.30.

The commissioners' next meeting will be Monday from 9:30 a.m. to 4 p.m.

OK TRAVEL PAY

LISBON — Commissioners yesterday approved travel allowance for County Treasurer Vincent Judge to attend the Ohio Treasurers Association meeting in Columbus Monday.

GUILTY IN SLAYING

ATHENS, Ohio (AP) — A jury Thursday night found Marion H. Pickett, 41, guilty of first-degree manslaughter in the shotgun slaying of his half-brother Clifford during an argument at the defendant's home last Nov. 20. Pickett, of Rt. 1, Nelsonville, had pleaded innocent by reason of insanity after being indicted on a second-degree murder charge. His sentencing was deferred.

Tire Thefts Reported

LISBON — Deputies are investigating the theft of tires last night or early this morning at two different locations in the county, according to Sheriff Russell J. VanFossen.

A 1000 x 20 truck tire and wheel was stolen from an Erskine truck parked in back of Peak's truck stop at intersection of Route 7 and 14, east of Columbiana. The thieves jacked up the truck to remove the wheel and tire, Deputy Robert Beresford said.

Hole's used car lot, just southeast of Lisbon (Gander's Flats) reported to the sheriff's office this morning that two 15-inch wheels and tires were taken from cars at their lot last evening or early this morning.

belt, extending from Madison County on the Illinois-Missouri border to Lawrence County on the Illinois - Indiana line, workers toiled around the clock to shore up levees.

A record flood crest bore down on Murphysboro, a southwest Illinois city of 8,600, threatening power and water service. The big Muddy River, expected to crest at 39.5 to 41.5 feet, pounded a wall of 6,000 sandbags protecting the city's power station. Waters from the flooded river surrounded the flood-stricken region as well as the municipal water plant.

Across the state at Carmi, Red Cross officials readied a large-scale plan of evacuation of many of the town's 6,260 residents if the rising Little Wabash River breaks through. Railroad cars and a river towboat barge were ready to remove people, livestock and personal belongings if the levee cracks. The river hit a record 38 feet.

inclusive; Washington's birthday, Feb. 22; Easter vacation, April 19-23; Memorial Day, May 30; last day of school, May 31.

The salary schedule follows: Teachers with two years training start at $3,100 to $3,700; three years training, $3,400 to $4,100; bachelor degree, $4,000 to $4,800; five years, $4,100 to $4,900; master's degree, $4,200 to $5,200.

The board accepted the resignation of Mrs. Sandra Rowan, second grade teacher, and Mrs. Rella Gorcheff, commercial teacher, and granted a leave of absence for one year to Mrs. Marjorie Anderson.

The board also hired Lionel R. Smith of Salem to teach chemistry and physics in high school next year and Alton Dawson of RD 2, Columbiana was hired as sixth grade teacher and principal of New Waterford building.

The board contracted with the Leetonia Typewriter Service to clean and maintain typewriters at $4.50 each.

The Junior-Senior Prom is to be held tonight, with an all night party being sponsored by the students' mothers and the Parent-Teacher Association.

The Spring Music Concert will be next Thursday at the Fairfield Building, where baccalaureate service will be May 28 and commencement exercises May 31.

Democrats inquired: "Are these (budget) cuts in our mental health and welfare programs the 'fat' that Republican leaders have been saying was in the governor's budget?"

If so, it would appear that the fat is turning into a pound of flesh that they are extracting from the hides of the mentally ill, aged, mentally retarded, crippled, blind and others in our society of less fortunate circumstances."

Rep. Jess Dempster, D-Tuscarawas, was questioned: "Why do these cuts always have to hit the little man?" House Majority Leader Robert Taft Jr., R-Hamilton, promptly accused Dempster of demagogery.

Jury Finds Woman Guilty In Burglary

LISBON — Miss Mary F. Walker, 20, of New Springfield RD 1 was found guilty Thursday afternoon by an all-woman jury of the burglary at the home of Lawrence Wolfgang of Lower Elkhorn Rd. Feb. 25.

Miss Walker was indicted by the April Grand Jury.

The trial began Thursday morning before Judge Raymond S. Buzzard who held up sentence pending the defendant's motion for a new trial.

The trial of Police Lt. Thomas A. Walker of East Liverpool will begin Monday before Judge Raymond S. Buzzard, according to Prosecutor G. William Brokaw.

Walker has pleaded not guilty to larceny of a television set from the office of Police Chief Americo Radesci of Wellsville. He was indicted by the April grand jury.

West Point Mothers Club Officers Named

WEST POINT — Mrs. Leslie Frantz was installed as president of the West Point Mothers Club Wednesday at the school.

She succeeds Mrs. Jack Pozenel. Others elected and installed were Mrs. William Conrad, vice-president; Mrs. Ralph Cusick, secretary; Mrs. Dallas Rupp, treasurer; and Mrs. Walter Haszon and Mrs. John Torma, reporters.

The group enjoyed a covered dish dinner, with 18 members present.

Mrs. Alvin Ronshak, Mrs. Mike Klemba, Mrs. Clarence Bowersock, Mrs. Robert Charlton and Mrs. Cusick were named on the committee for treats for the last day of school.

The group will meet again next September at the beginning of the new school term.

Honor Pupils Named At East Palestine

EAST PALESTINE — Fred H. Johnson Jr. and Pearl Anne Shoff today were named valedictorian and salutatorian, respectively, of the high school graduating class by Principal H. S. Laber.

Johnson, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred H. Johnson Sr. of 580 N. Summer St., has been active in dramatics and music and served as president of the Thespian Society. A member of the school scholarship team all four years, he is a past master councilor of DeMolay. He is the recipient of an achievement scholarship to Ohio Wesleyan University where he will major in speech or music.

Miss Shoff is the daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Robert J. Shoff of 205 E. Martin St. Her father is pastor of the Church of the Nazarene.

The board also hired Lionel R. Smith of Salem to teach chemistry and physics in high school next year and Alton Dawson of RD 2, Columbiana was hired as sixth grade teacher and principal of New Waterford building.

The board contracted with the Leetonia Typewriter Service to clean and maintain typewriters at $4.50 each.

The Junior-Senior Prom is to be held tonight, with an all night party being sponsored by the students' mothers and the Parent-Teacher Association.

The Spring Music Concert will be next Thursday at the Fairfield Building, where baccalaureate service will be May 28 and commencement exercises May 31.

The Doctor Says

By DR. H. T. HYMAN

Body Adjusts to High Altitudes

Q—I am 50 years old and have rheumatic valvular disease. I live at 7,000 feet elevation and frequently have dizzy spells. Recently I spent two weeks at 2,300 feet and found it unbelievably easy to breathe. In fact, until I spent some time at the lower altitude I did not realize how short of breath I'd been at home. Do you think the benefit from the lower altitude is sufficient to justify my moving from home?

A—Ordinarily we adjust to altitudes up to about 10,000 feet without much difficulty. It's not easy to pull up stakes so I'd think a longer trial at the lower altitude might be distinctly worth considering before arriving at a decision.

It's just possible that some factor other than altitude was responsible for the apparent improvement. For example, if it were a vacation, it might have been relaxation from routine duties. Or it might have been the company. Or the influence of a dry spell. Or even the mere factor of change. Like the increased appetite we sometimes enjoy when we go to a restaurant for a meal and smack our lips at food that's not as good or as well prepared as what's served at home.

Q—is THE PAPANICOLAOU test necessary after a woman has had her uterus removed?

A—Because of the great importance of this question, I shall have to give a detailed answer. The uterus is usually described as having a body and a neck (cervix). The body of the uterus is entirely within the abdominal cavity. The cervix protrudes so that it is visible at the time of examination. And it is from the visible mouth of the cervix that material for the Pap test is taken.

Now cancers of the body of the uterus are very rare. But cancers of the cervix are very common. Indeed breast and cervical cancers make up the vast majority of malignancies affecting the adult female.

WHEN THE UTERUS is surgically removed (hysterectomy) the cervix is usually left. That's why the operation is called a supra-cervical hysterectomy, meaning that only the portion above the cervix is taken out.

Credit Group Elects Brooks As President

Charles Brooks of the New Waterford Bank was elected president of the Northern Columbiana County Consumer Credit Association at the monthly meeting Thursday night at the New Waterford Sportsmen's Club. He succeeds Ralph Mancuso of Salem. Seventeen members attended.

Other officers named are: Paul Hannay of Salem, secretary, and Richard Harter of Salem, treasurer.

The organization was formed two years ago in order to facilitate the exchange of credit information between lending and credit sales organizations.

The next meeting will be the organization's annual golf outing at Valley Golf Course on Wednesday, June 14.

Mt. Union Choir to Sing At West Branch Wednesday

The Mount Union Choir, under the direction of Cecil Stewart, will present a concert at West Branch High School auditorium Wednesday at 8 p.m.

The performance is being sponsored by the West Branch Ministerial Association.

The Choir was organized as a part of the activities of Mount Union College in 1932. Aside from presentations of major choral works on the campus and seasonal programs in the a cappella tradition, the choir also has presented concerts each year in Ohio and eastern Pennsylvania.

When Cecil Stewart, director of the Department of Music at Mount Union became the conductor of the choir, the name was changed to the Mount Union Choir.

The scope of the music presented by the choir was augmented to include secular works of classical and contemporary composers, and choral arrangements of folk songs and spirituals. Completely sacred programs were still available for presentation in church services.

In the concert programs costume changes appropriate to the three general types of music used provide visual contrast to go along with the musical variety.

The programs generally open with a section of earlier or "ser-

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I've been people" so we moved to Chicago. married 16 years to a man who won't stay in one place long so we moved to Nebraska. Not enough for me to enjoy the flowers and little shrubs that I plant. We have moved 14 times in 16 years.

He has a very good trade which makes it possible for him to get work wherever he goes. The kids are having trouble in school because of all the moving and I'm just about worn out.

We were married in Arizona but he said it was too dry so we moved to northern California. That was too wet. Then we moved to Nevada but he "missed people" more than sand in his shoes. He's got rocks in his head.

Dear Daisy: This man has

Tell him to examine the map and make a study of the climatic conditions of all sections of the United States — because your next move is going to be your last one. And keep your word. You've done more than your share.

Post-Teen-Agers

Dear Ann: My husband and I are 50 years old, so please don't think this letter is from a teenage couple.

He goes to see his parents at least three times a week. They live 20 minutes from here. When he comes home he has to call his mother on the phone so she'll know he made it.

If it takes longer than his mother thinks it should, she calls and asks, "Is Bennie home yet?" Then I worry.

My husband has to talk to his folks every night and tell them what we're doing. If something comes up unexpectedly and we go out for the evening without telling them, they worry because nobody answers the phone.

I've been telling Bennie for years that he is too attached to his folks. He says he's just "respectful." What do you think?—RESENTFUL.

Dear Resentful: He is both resentful and too attached but what are you going to do about it after all these years? If you're 50, your in-laws must be in their 70s. Are you going to change them — or Bennie?

Resentment takes energy. Why waste one of your most precious gifts? You should have long since accepted this situation.

Alimony Blues

Dear Ann: Your remark that "alimony is the high cost of leaving" shows no sympathy for those of us who are victims of this cheap racket.

I married a man whose first wife was a conniving, greedy devil. The price of leaving was a great deal higher than it should have been. The price of staying would have been his sanity.

My husband had enough on his ex-wife to have gotten off without a dime. He could have ruined her reputation and taken his children but, being a fine person, he said nothing and let her throw the book at him.

She has taught the children to hate him and his visits with them are so unhappy that he has just about given up.

If you're so doggone fair, why don't you print this? Or is such a letter too anti-American and Mother? — VICTIMIZED.

Dear Victimized: I usually print both sides and I'm happy to do so again. Thanks for writing.

Same Old Monday

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Something has happened to the calendar in the last generation.

It has changed, the days don't mean what they used to.

In our well-ordered yesterdays, each day had a separate purpose and its own identity. You did certain things on certain days and the week wore a seemingly endless pattern of certainty and security.

Every day then had its own special character, but the weekend days were especially notable.

Sunday, for example, was the day you put on your best clothes, went to church, ate a fried chicken dinner at 2 p.m., took a nap, then spent the evening gossiping on the front porch and eating ice cream.

Questions of national principle as well as family policy—and who would win in the National League, the Giants or Cincinnati—were ironed out in these front porch discussions in the darkening summer twilight. The front porch then was the forum of America, and especially on Sunday evenings.

Sunday, however, no longer is quite the day it used to be, is it? Golf and television and the motor car have rather changed the Sabbath, and one wonders sometimes whether it is altogether for the better.

But the greatest change in the week's calendar has happened to Saturday and Friday.

Not so many years ago Saturday was the day of the week one spelled in capital letters.

Work ended at noon or 1 p.m. at the latest, and from then on Saturday was sheer magic.

Saturday was payday. Saturday was the day when no family, that held its head up in the neighborhood and had a feeling of local responsibility, failed to leave a series of rings in the bathtub.

Saturday was the day for hair cuts, the kids in the afternoon and the grownups in the early evening.

Saturday was one long splurge of excitement, from the noon whistle until they rolled up the town sidewalks—along about midnight. It was the night of romance and adventure, when a young fellow set out not knowing whether he would find love or a black eye.

All that is changed. Something has happened to Saturday. Its magic has gone. People get paid on Friday now, and start the weekend sooner. Many stay home on Saturday night because they are tired and want to rest up for the fun of Sunday.

Yep, the week's calendar has been turned topsy-turvy in many ways.

But one day never changes. That is Monday, the day of inescapable responsibility. Nothing, one feels, will ever change the nature of Monday, the day when the alarm clock clangs again and civilization returns to its remorseless anvil.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I've been people" so we moved to Chicago. married 16 years to a man who won't stay in one place long so we moved to Nebraska. Not enough for me to enjoy the flowers and little shrubs that I plant. We have moved 14 times in 16 years.

He has a very good trade which makes it possible for him to get work wherever he goes. The kids are having trouble in school because of all the moving and I'm just about worn out.

We were married in Arizona but he said it was too dry so we moved to northern California. That was too wet. Then we moved to Nevada but he "missed people" more than sand in his shoes. He's got rocks in his head.

Dear Daisy: This man has

Tell him to examine the map and make a study of the climatic conditions of all sections of the United States — because your next move is going to be your last one. And keep your word. You've done more than your share.

Post-Teen-Agers

Dear Ann: My husband and I are 50 years old, so please don't think this letter is from a teenage couple.

He goes to see his parents at least three times a week. They live 20 minutes from here. When he comes home he has to call his mother on the phone so she'll know he made it.

If it takes longer than his mother thinks it should, she calls and asks, "Is Bennie home yet?" Then I worry.

My husband has to talk to his folks every night and tell them what we're doing. If something comes up unexpectedly and we go out for the evening without telling them, they worry because nobody answers the phone.

I've been telling Bennie for years that he is too attached to his folks. He says he's just "respectful." What do you think?—RESENTFUL.

Dear Resentful: He is both resentful and too attached but what are you going to do about it after all these years? If you're 50, your in-laws must be in their 70s. Are you going to change them — or Bennie?

Resentment takes energy. Why waste one of your most precious gifts? You should have long since accepted this situation.

Alimony Blues

Dear Ann: Your remark that "alimony is the high cost of leaving" shows no sympathy for those of us who are victims of this cheap racket.

I married a man whose first wife was a conniving, greedy devil. The price of leaving was a great deal higher than it should have been. The price of staying would have been his sanity.

My husband had enough on his ex-wife to have gotten off without a dime. He could have ruined her reputation and taken his children but, being a fine person, he said nothing and let her throw the book at him.

She has taught the children to hate him and his visits with them are so unhappy that he has just about given up.

If you're so doggone fair, why don't you print this? Or is such a letter too anti-American and Mother? — VICTIMIZED.

Dear Victimized: I usually print both sides and I'm happy to do so again. Thanks for writing.

Class A District Meet To Be Held Here Tuesday

Braceville Solid Choice for Crown

Columbiana, Leetonia, Greenford Thincldas Expected to Qualify

By DICK BRAUTIGAM

The Braceville Bees are a solid choice to win the N.E.O. District Class A Track and Field Meet scheduled for Salem's Reilly Stadium Tuesday.

F. E. Cope, Salem High Athletic Director, who has been running the Class A and Class AA District meets here since 1936, reports that 24 schools have officially entered this year's A meet and two or three more schools are expected to sign up before Tuesday.

Class A schools in Mahoning, Columbiana, Trumbull, Portage

QUAKERS ON THE ROAD

While the Class A District Meet is being held at Reilly Stadium Tuesday, the Salem High track squad will be at Canton competing in the McKinley Relays.

The Quakers will then take part in the Class AA District Meet here next Friday.

and Stark counties will take part in the Salem meet.

SCHOOLS ENTERED to date are Atwater, Aurora, Braceville, Bristol Twp., Columbiana, Cortland, Fairfield-Waterford, Fowler, Garfield, Greenford, Jackson-Milton, Lake, Leetonia, Lowellville, McDonald, North Bloomfield, North Lima, Northwest (Cana Fulton), Randolph, Sebring, Springfield Local, Suffield, United and Windham.

Twinsburg, last year's Class A District champion, is in Summit County and will be competing in the district meet at Baldwin Wallace College this year.

Braceville, which finished runner-up to Twinsburg here last year with a total of 22-7-10 points, appears to be the logical successor to the crown. Braceville thinclads have posted the best marks in the district for six of the 14 events to be contested.

Following is a list of favorites in each event and their best marks this season:

x 880 RUN: Merlin Moore (Canton) - Time: 2:03.

220 DASH: Bill Hughes (Braceville) - Time: 22.9.

180 LOW HURDLES: Warren Hill (Lake) - Time: 21.7.

MILE RELAY: Springfield Local - Time: 3:41.

880 RELAY: Columbiana. Time: 1:35.

440 DASH: Richard Bretz (Springfield Local) - Time: 51.3.

MILE RUN: Bill Nye (Braceville) - Time: 4:39.

100 DASH: Bill Hughes (Braceville) - Time: 9.9.

120 HIGH HURDLES: Ron Broome (Braceville) - Time: 16.3.

HIGH JUMP: Russ Lehman (Leetonia) and Bill Hughes (Braceville) - 5-10.

DISCUS: Bob Pratt (Lowellville) - Distance: 136-7.

SHOT PUT: Dale Murphy (Columbiana) - Distance: 48-11 1/2.

POLE VAULT: Dennis Steel (Braceville) - Height: 10-9.

BROAD JUMP: Carroll Wooding (Braceville) - Distance: 20-6.

The only defending champ back is Bretz of Springfield Local who coped the 440-yard dash last year in 53.4.

If any new records are set on Tuesday, the man most likely to do it is Braceville's Bill Hughes in the dashes. If he can duplicate his 9.9 in the 100 here Tuesday he will snap the current record which is 10.2. The 220 standard, set by Bill Entriene of Columbiana in 1937, is 23 flat. Hughes has a 22.9 clocking this year.

HUGHES HAS A GOOD chance of being a triple winner here on Tuesday. Besides his skill in the dashes, the Braceville flash has cleared 5-10 in the high jump. Only Leetonia's Russ Lehman has equaled that mark in the district.

Deemer of Bristol, Pratt of Lowellville and Woodling of Garfield all have run the century in 10.2 this year. Paul Murphy of Columbiana could push Hughes in the 220. The Clipper has a 23.1 clocking.

There will be two fine milers here Tuesday. Moore of Garfield has toured the four laps in 4:43.2—not too far off the 4:39 turned in by Braceville's Bill Nye.

Greenford has two hurdlers who have a good chance of qualifying for the State Meet. Dave Tyo at 16.4 and Kenny Wellendorf at 16.6 are among the five best high hurdlers. Tyo has a 22 flat and Wellendorf a 22.3 in the low hurdles which also puts them among the top five in that event.

Any of the first four places in each event will qualify a man for State.

RANDY MILLER of Columbiana also figures to be one of the qualifiers in the low hurdles. His best time is 22 flat.

Dale Murphy of Columbiana and Joe Gaither of Sebring appear to be the best shot put entries. Murphy has a 48-11 1/2 and Gaither a 48-8 1/2.

Don Williamson of Columbiana has a 136-1 throw in the discus, second in the district only to Pratt of Lowellville.

United's number one hope for a victory is Bill Leatherberry who has cleared 5-8 in the high jump. The Eagles have a fine dash man in Paul DeVille but the competition in those events may be a little too tough this year.

The meet will get under way at 2 p.m. with prelims and finals in the pole vault, shot put and high jump. Finals in most of the track events will be held in the evening, starting at 7:30.

CLASS A RECORDS

100 DASH: Warren Smith (Columbiana) 1929; George Brungard (Columbiana) 1931; Robert Heaver (Boardman) 1932; Eddie Oster (Marlboro) 1932; Time: 10.2.

220 DASH: William Entriene (Columbiana) 1937; Time: 23.0.

440 DASH: Wally Toso (Braceville) 1937; Time: 51.0.

120 HIGH HURDLES: Roger Dietz (Rootstown) 1937; Time: 15.0.

180 LOW HURDLES: Roger Dietz (Rootstown) 1937; Time: 20.3.

MILE RUN: Baird Mitchell (Poland) 1939; Time: 4:36.6.

880 RELAY: Columbiana (Robert Entriene, William Entriene, Richard Fisher, Duane Angiemeyer) 1937. Time: 1:35.

440 DASH: Richard Bretz (Springfield Local) - Time: 51.3.

MILE RUN: Bill Nye (Braceville) - Time: 4:39.

100 DASH: Bill Hughes (Braceville) - Time: 9.9.

Soviet Basketball Vastly Improved

NEW YORK (AP)—Soviet basketball is improving. Soviet fans appreciate talented play. Tourists hear little about such things as Cmdr. Alan B. Shepard's space flight.

"The fans treated us wonderfully well. We never were approached about our political views. They seemed to appreciate good basketball. Every game was a sellout except the ones we played in a big outdoor arena."

"We heard very little about the space shoot. It is difficult to get news over there. There were no details."

Coach Harry Redin of the girls' team, seven of whom played for him at Wayland Baptist College, Plainview, Tex., and won the AAU title, said the Soviet girls' team emphasized defense.

"They play man-to-man and switch," he said. "They wouldn't let you shoot but foul first. In international rules, just like boy's rules, nobody ever calls a foul on offense. You just blast right over them. The men learned that quicker than the girls."

Track Program Accepted For Salem Grade Schools

The Salem Schools Athletic Board has approved a program for track and field in Salem grade schools.

The program was drawn up by Karl Zellers, head track coach at Senior High School.

Coach Zellers listed the main objectives of the grade school track program as follows:

One — To develop an understanding of track and field as a whole, such as simple rules of track and field and basic fundamentals of good running, good jumping form, etc.

Two — To develop each boy in his own individual habits of cooperation, courtesy, school and team spirit, desire to compete, physical fitness and abilities, humility, health, respect for law or rules, self-confidence and independence.

A physical examination and parental consent will be required before participation is permitted. Zellers says.

Seven events are listed for the 1961 Mickey McGuire track program. They are the 50-yard dash, 220-yard relay (four boys), 40-yard relay (8 boys), 50-yard low hurdles, high jump, broad jump and eight-pound shot. No boy will be required to run farther than 55 yards.

"The expense of such a program will be nominal compared with benefits derived," Coach Zellers commented. "Track is not an expensive sport since it does not require elaborate equipment or uniforms."

Scrambles Races Scheduled Sunday

First area scrambles race of the year will be staged Sunday afternoon by the Western Reserve Flyers Motorcycle Club at its grounds on the Middleton Rd., about four miles north of Salem.

A new, longer and more interesting track has been laid out by the club, offering more speed and more opportunities to pass on the twisting, hilly course.

Scrambles racing, with machines competing in their own four classes as determined by motor size, is about tops as a crowd pleaser among motorcycle sporting events.

Loop Leaders Open Series With Yanks

Detroit Blasted 9-4 by Washington

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer
Detroit's no longer tepid Tigers, who have won eight out of nine on the road so far, start an 18-game tour with a 2½-game lead in the American League race tonight when they open a four-game series at New York against the second place Yankees.

If this grand circuit trip — through the East and the Midlands en route to the West Coast — is to test Detroit's pennant potential, an ingredient the Tigers haven't made pay off since 1945, they couldn't have picked a better place to start. The defending champion Yankees have won six in a row at home since an opening defeat by Minnesota.

In the National League, where San Francisco leads Los Angeles by one game, the Giants open a brief home stand against Milwaukee and southpaw Warren Spahn. Right-hander Sad Sam Jones (3-1) goes for San Francisco.

Right-hander Frank Lary (4-1) is manager Bob Scheffing's starting choice against the Yankees and right-hander Art Ditmar (2-1).

Lary's magic again New York set up Detroit's seventh defeat in 25 games Thursday, however. Scheffing held back his ace, giving bullpen man Bill Fischer, Lary's regular place in the rotation, and Washington belted the Tigers 9-4.

Hot Stove Leagues

The Salem Junior Baseball Leagues will take part in the UCT Safety Parade Saturday.

John Herman Jr., Leagues president, requests that all managers contact their players and have them report in uniform, if possible. They will form on S. Union Ave., south of E. Pershing, at 5:45 p.m. The parade starts at 6:30.

The SJBL will have a float in the parade made possible by the Herron Transfer Co.

REGISTRATION will be held at 10 a.m. Saturday, May 20, at Memorial Park North for all boys wishing to learn to play baseball. They are requested to pick up official release forms from Fisher Ness or Scott's Sports and bring them to the field on May 20.

All players who have been or will be released from various teams are requested to attend the baseball clinic where every effort will be made to help them overcome their faults. Herman said.

THE BASEBALL CLINIC and Morning League will continue to be held each Saturday morning at 10 until after Bible School is over this summer. Then the program will be held twice a week.

After the instruction period is over, teams will be formed and games will be scheduled as in the other leagues. This league will play in the mornings.

The clinic is for beginners as well as for released players. Every effort will be made to place boys on teams as soon as they learn how to play. Herman said.

Any boy who is 6½ years or older may take part in the clinic.

Baltimore got past Minnesota 8-7 in the only other game scheduled in the majors.

The Senators busted loose for six runs in the fifth inning at Detroit with Billy Klaus socking the second grand slam home run of his career. Gene Woodling and Dale Long also homered for the Senators.

Baltimore broke up a 2-2 tie at Minnesota with a five-run fifth, getting three on Jim Gentile's double. But it was a bases-loaded walk by reliever Paul Giel in the eighth that gave the Orioles the run they needed. Camilo Pascual (2-3) lost his third in a row. Steve Barber (4-2) won it, with relief help from Hoyt Wilhelm. Don Mincher homered for the Twins.

Kefauver Pushes Patterson at Liston

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Estes Kefauver, D-Tenn., told heavyweight boxing champion Floyd Patterson today "it would be unconscionable" to deny No. 1 challenger Sonny Liston a crack at the title if Congress fails to pass an antiracketeering law.

Liston has hired a new manager to replace Joseph (Pep) Barrone, whom Kefauver had denounced as a front for underworld figures.

Patterson, who had declared he would never fight Liston unless Liston broke with Barrone, then announced he would ask Kefauver's Senate Antitrust and Monopoly subcommittee to say whether it approves of Liston's new manager, George Katz.

Without waiting for the request to arrive, Kefauver addressed a letter to Patterson rejecting the idea and made public the text.

Kefauver pointed to an antiracketeering bill he has introduced on the basis of evidence dug up by the subcommittee that mobsters have wielded vast monopolistic powers over boxing.

It would create the post of federal boxing commissioner, who would have power to license fighters, managers, matchmakers and promoters, and deny licenses to those with underworld connections.

"If Congress does not act within a reasonable time, it seems to me that it would be unconscionable to further postpone the arrangements for the (Patterson-Liston) match," Kefauver said.

Here is the schedule for Saturday and next week.

DRESSEN KNOCKS SLIDER

You've heard it dozens of times, pitchers blessing the name of a pitch called the slider and raving how it made new men of them. But Chuck Dresen, the Braves' manager, buys none of it.

After watching his team's first four losses inflicted by enemy homers, he moaned, "The slider is the most overrated pitch there is. It slides over the plate, then it slides out of the park." The Braves' sliders are not sliding enough to suit the peppery pilot.

100-Miler Slated Memorial Day

Klapak, James To Duel At Canfield Opener Saturday

The appearance of Mike Klapak of Warren and Bob James of Akron at Canfield Speedway Saturday night will assure race fans of one of the most interesting

Salem are slated to compete in this division.

RACE TIME is 8:30 p.m. with trials getting under way at Meanwhile, officials are busy getting the half-mile track in shape for the 12th annual Memorial Day classic. The May 30 event will feature the MARC new care, 1959-1960 and 1961 models, in a 200 lap duel.

Some 40 to 45 entries are expected for the 100 miler and they will include the best stock car drivers in the Midwest. Billed as the "Poor Man's Indianapolis" this will be the biggest race of the year at Canfield.

Cub Coaches On Merry-Go-Round

CHICAGO (AP) — Vinnie Himsel again has caught the brass ring in the Chicago Cubs' coaching merry-go-round.

Himsel, the club's first head coach of the rotating 10-man staff, was recalled Thursday to serve another term, replacing Harry Craft.

He comes in from San Antonio of the Texas League to lead the Cubs on a six-game western swing, opening tonight at Los Angeles.

Craft will serve as head coach at San Antonio, relieving Rip Collins who has held that job since spring training. Collins joins the Cubs in Los Angeles as a first base and batting coach.

The new alignment will have Himsel, Bobby Adams, El Tappe and Collins with the parent club; with Craft, Goldie Holt, Verlon Walker, Charlie Grimm, Dick Cole and Fred Martin in the minors.

Klapak and James will find plenty of competition as Bill Forney of Youngstown will be in the lineup with his 1958 Chevrolet. Forney is the Canfield defending champ and he is hard to beat over the tricky quarter-mile oval.

Also entered are Jim Bickerstaff of Youngstown, Ed Mitchell of Warren, Nook and Gary Walters of Niles, Don Sawyer of Girard and many others.

The new amateur pilots are anxiously awaiting the opener Saturday. Three newcomers from Cleveland and a 1957 Chevrolet.

GET OUT without running up a disastrous score.

If you have any doubt about being able to clear a trap, take no chances. Shoot around it, even though you cannot reach the exact spot you would like to. That's better than winding up in the sand.

Once you're in a sand trap, the trick is to get out without running up a disastrous score. Most weekend golfers don't practice sand shots. When they get in a trap they're in strange territory with no road map of experience to guide them. As in every phase of the game, practice is essential.

You must have the proper club, called a sand wedge and used exclusively for this shot, since the wedge was introduced it has become about 100 per cent easier to get out of a trap.

An average player, using a sand wedge, can beat a touring professional out of a sand trap, if the pro has to use a pitching wedge or No. 9 iron.

Best box seat buy in the American League is the $2.75 charged by the Cleveland Indians. The Boston Red Sox charge $3.75, top price, for roof boxes at Fenway Park.

Four-mile relay: Berea, 18.52 Cleveland John Marshall, 18.53 Cleveland Glenville, 18.564 Dayton Roosevelt, 19.07.

Folley Knocked Out By Lavorante In 7th

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Argentina's newest boxing hero, Alejandro Lavorante, spectacular knockout conqueror of third-ranked heavyweight Zora Folley, set his sight on a single target today.

As interpreted by his American manager, Pinky George, Lavorante said:

"We want Floyd Patterson."

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — A possibility of track records, two spectacular "rookies" and the constant threat of disaster will pull upwards of 100,000 speed buffs to the huge Indianapolis speedway Saturday for the opening session of time trials for the golden anniversary 500-mile race May 30.

Deep in the cubicles of the Olympic Auditorium, a disconsolate Folley from Chandler, Ariz., had little to say. It was his second knockout loss in a row. Sonny Linton stopped him in three rounds several months ago.

Does Lavorante hit as hard as Linton?

"I wouldn't compare them," said Folley. He left it unclear but it appeared that he didn't want to downgrade Alejandro's hitting power.

Lavorante weighed 206 and Folley 200.

Old Home Week at Farm As Ike Fetes GOP Leaders

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP)—Republicans credited former President Dwight D. Eisenhower today with having become more politically minded in retirement than some of them thought he was in the White House.

It was old home week at Gettysburg, Pa., Thursday as Eisenhower played host at a five-hour conference to 20 of his Cabinet members and advisers. They had served with him at least part-and some of them all-of his 8-year tour of duty as President.

The unprecedented meeting, which started with a chicken luncheon, finally broke up late in the afternoon. Then, Eisenhower led his team out on the portico of the mid-Victorian mansion on the Gettysburg College campus that serves as his office.

There was a cheer from 68 college boys and girls — some of them raincoated and bearing umbrellas and some shivering in bare feet—who had stood for over two hours to see the man who was giving their college more publicity than any football team could.

With an apology for the pelting downpour which fractured the tradition that he always carries sunshine around with him, Eisenhower stepped briskly to the microphone to tell rain-sodden newsmen clustering about the steps that all was harmony within his administration's wing of the Republican party.

The Republicans, he announced authoritatively, are going to be "completely bipartisan" in their attitude toward President Kennedy's handling of international crises.

With an added pointedly, however, that the GOP is reserving the right to criticize at the appropriate time. But this was not the time, he said, for divisive voices to be heard in the land.

Then, a reporter gave him an opening he seemed to be looking for by asking the former President what he and his advisers thought about the farm program submitted to Congress by Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman. Freeman has proposed that farmers draft their own programs, subject to congressional veto.

With a broad grin, Eisenhower snapped out: "Our discussions left no doubt about it. We don't like it."

United Prom Scheduled On Saturday

A semi-formal, all night prom is to be held at United School Saturday in a setting of "Springtime in Holland."

There will be dancing from 8:30 to 11:30 p.m. to the music of Steve Navoyosky's orchestra. Parents of the students are invited to observe the prom from 10 to 10:30 p.m., when last year's queen and king, Paula Waitzman and Wade Courtney, relinquish their crowns to a new queen and king, elected in a secret ballot, but not yet revealed.

Candidates from the junior class for queen are Linda Carlson, Sally DeVille, Patty Gamble, Halyna Jermolenko and Kathy Stamp; for king, Dennis Cummings, John Hanna, Larry Marks, Jerry Schaffer and Emil Zeigler.

Past prom activities include a trip to Canton's YMCA in a motorcade conducted by Constable Roy Painter of Hanoverton. Entertainment at the "Y" will include bowling, swimming, table tennis, etc.
